“What goes around, comes around.”

-Unknown

“You can’t live a perfect day without doing something for someone who will never be able to repay you.”

-John Wooden

“Don’t play what’s there, play what’s not there.”

-Miles Davis

“Gratitude is not only the greatest of virtues, but the parent of all others.”

-Cicero

“While we are postponing, life speeds by.”

-Seneca

“This present moment
Used to be
The unimaginable future.”

-Stewart Brand, The Clock of the Long Now

“Remember that not getting what you want is sometimes a wonderful stroke of luck.”

-Dalai Lama

“The world is round and the place which may seem like the end may also be only the beginning.”

-George Baker

“There is no cure for birth and death save to enjoy the interval.”

-George Santayana

“The value of beliefs must be measured by the justice of injustice, the good or evil they inspire.”

-John K. Roth, Professor of Ethics

“It is fundamental that justice should be the same, in substance and availability, without regard to economic status.”

-Lewis Powell Jr., U.S. Supreme Court Justice

“It’s time for greatness – not for greed. It’s a time for idealism – not ideology. It is a time not just for compassionate words, but compassionate action.”

-Marion Wright Edelman

“It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; ...who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who at worst, if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.”

-Teddy Roosevelt

“When an honest man speaks, he says only what he believes to be true; and for the liar, it is correspondingly indispensable that he considers his statements to be false. For the bullshitter, however, all these bets are off: he is neither on the side of the true nor on the side of the false. His eye is not on the facts at all, as the eyes of the honest man and of the liar are, except insofar as they may be pertinent to his interest in getting away with what he says. He does not care whether the things he says describe reality correctly. He just picks them out, or makes them up, to suit his purpose.”

-Harry G. Frankfurt, On Bullshit

“To know what people really think, pay regard to what they do, rather than what they say.”

-Rene Descartes

“Conceal a flaw, and the world will imagine the worst.”

-Martial (Marcus Valerius Martialis)

“I am aware that no man is a villain in his own eyes.”

-James Baldwin, writer (1924-1987)

“I have never met a man so ignorant that I couldn't learn something from him.”

-Galileo

“I've learned one thing - people who know the least, seem to know it the loudest.”

-Andy Capp

“Three of them can keep a secret - if two of them are dead.”

-Benjamin Franklin

“Press on. Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence.”

-Calvin Coolidge
